Land Beyond Dreams 2

This level was inspired by Petite Meller songs of her album "Lil Empire" and "Joanne" by Lady Gaga. Both of them include the songs:

"Argentina", "Geez", "The Flute" and "Angel Down", "Joanne"

Mostly by the death of my father (he died 1 year ago). But I know he would like to see me keep going, and to be happy. So this is a level that tells a story of death and how we have to be strong to deal with losses.

The land beyond dreams is dark today. Lara's aunt Joanne has passed away because she was ill and didn't tell anyone because there was no way to escape it because of her old age. Lara is so sad, and she thinks that Joanne left something to her inside the house in the mountains, place that both of them visited together so many times...

Death is not the end.
There's much more then that.
